Website: still doesn't display correctly. Wordpress.org can host website for free with masking redirect. Heather wants to use Weebly. Gabe is fine with Weebly, too.

Elizabeth will write an article about the Greensboro meet up.

For April 5th meetup go the more plant picture heavy route. Hold plants close to kids to give them a sense of closeness to the plants without touching them. Event geared towards children. Rob Patterson (or something) takes really good shots of plant in the wild—ask him for use of photos.

Cornhole boards are being acquired. Hopefully have them before April 5th.

Display ideas: make display based on what plants feel like (sarracenia hairs, ping leaves, drosera leaves)

End: 10:23pm
